

2021-2022 Colorado State University
Residence Hall Contract Addendum

The novel coronavirus (“COVID-19”) is a highly infectious, contagious, and life-threatening disease that has been designated as a global pandemic by the World Health Organization and declared a national health emergency by the United States government. As of the date of this Addendum, there is no current vaccine for COVID-19.

The highly contagious nature of COVID-19 means that contact with others and, potentially contact with surfaces that have been exposed to the virus, can lead to infection. Additionally, individuals who may have been infected with COVID-19 may asymptomatic for a period of time or may never become symptomatic at all. Because of its highly contagious and sometimes “hidden” nature, it is currently very difficult to control the spread of COVID-19 or to determine whether, where, or how a specific individual may have been exposed to the disease.

This Addendum is made and entered into for the academic year 2021-2022. Information related to public health orders and guidelines require adaptations to the Colorado State University Residence Hall Contract as outlined below.

By accepting an assignment in a residence hall, you agree to abide by and comply with public health orders and guidelines and CSU policies. Please review and initial by each item and sign below.
